
Gregg Lemkau

Investment Banking
New York

Gregg is co-head of the Investment Banking Division (IBD). He is a member of the Management Committee and IBD Executive Committee. Gregg has advised on hundreds of transactions during his career at Goldman Sachs and has spent significant time with clients across all sectors globally while working in offices in Europe and the US.

Previously, he was co-head of Global Mergers & Acquisitions. Gregg has also served as global co-head of the Technology, Media and Telecom Group, global co-head of the Healthcare Group and chief operating officer for the Investment Banking Division. He served as chairman of the Firmwide Commitments Committee from 2011 to 2015. Gregg joined Goldman Sachs as an analyst in Mergers & Acquisitions in 1992 and was named managing director in 2001 and partner in 2002.

Gregg is a member of the Board of Trustees of Dartmouth College. He previously served as chairman of the Dartmouth Athletics Advisory Board. In addition, Gregg is on the Board of Advisors for Team Rubicon, a nonprofit organization whose mission is to unite the skills and experiences of military veterans with first responders to rapidly deploy emergency response teams. He previously served as chairman of the Board of Directors for Grassroot Soccer, a nonprofit organization using the power of soccer to fight against HIV and AIDS in Africa.

Gregg earned a BA in Government and Economics from Dartmouth College in 1991.

